INCI: Cannabidiol (CBD) from Cannabis Sativa

Background:

Cannabidiol (CBD) is a phytocannabinoid that is naturally present in both male and female cannabis plants. CBD cannot make you "high" as it does not possess any psychoactive properties. Tetrahydrocannabinol, also known as THC, is the psychoactive component present in female marijuana plants (cannabis) that is responsible for the plant's psychoactive effects. Our CBD products do not contain THC.

Method of Production:

Our Broad Spectrum CBD, sometimes also known as a CBD wax, is extracted using ethanol from hemp that has been grown in the USA without the use of pesticides or herbicides. It then undergoes a proprietary cutting edge short path distillation that yields a pure, full spectrum hemp distillate. It then passes through cutting edge chromatography processes to remove just the THC, leaving all of the other beneficial cannabinoids intact. The resulting THC-free concentrate averages above 75% CBD and up to 90% total cannabinoids, terpenes and other synergistic compounds.

Product Consistency:

Because our Broad Spectrum CBD contains over 70% cannabidiol, it is crystalline in composition and has a sticky, crumbly consistency slightly similar to that of hard brown sugar. It can be gently heated to melt it and make it much easier to work with. For details, please contact our Customer Care Department.
