Origin: Grown and Produced in the USA

INCI: Cannabidiol (CBD) from Cannabis Sativa

Background:

Cannabidiol (CBD) is a phytocannabinoid that is naturally present in both male and female cannabis plants. CBD cannot make you “high” as it does not possess any psychoactive properties. Tetrahydrocannabinol, also known as THC, is the psychoactive component present in female marijuana plants (cannabis) that is responsible for the plant’s psychoactive effects. Our CBD products do not contain THC.

Method of Production:

To produce our CBD Isolate, full spectrum, crude hemp oil is first extracted using ethanol from hemp that has been grown in the USA without the use of pesticides or herbicides. The crude oil contains approximately 50%-60% CBD at this stage. The crude oil then undergoes a proprietary cutting edge short path distillation under vacuum. This process yields an exceptional quality, full spectrum hemp oil with a minimum CBD concentration of 75%. The full-spectrum hemp CBD oil is then placed in CBD isolate reactors where it undergoes a 12-hour crystallization process that results in a pure 99%+ CBD crystal isolate.

Product Consistency:

Our CBD Isolate is a fine, white powder that is lipophilic. It dissolves easily in Fractionated Coconut, Hemp Seed, Olive and a wide range of other base oils and lipids. Please contact us if you would like us to pre-blend the isolate into your choice of base oil at the concentration that you require.
